1. Arboles UK Laboratory Gas Taps

Arboles bench and wall mounted gas taps are available in two types: push turn, and the ever popular drop lever. The drop lever taps come in a bright yellow so it can be quickly identified if they have been left in the 'on' position - a great safety feature.

Constructed from solid brass with a male 3/8" BSP thread. They also feature an integral 'anti rotation pin' which prevents the tap being twisted from the desk. Push turn handles also available which are aimed at research institutions and private industry.

Wall mounted taps also have the option to insert a grub screw into the nozzles so you can easily wind them out with an allen key to remove any debris in the nozzle so they can be cleaned, increasing the longevity of the tap.

An installation template comes with each tap to ensure a perfect fit. The taps hold the prestigious British Gas Approval.
